56 A.T.H.S. Graduates Told They Can Never Escape World Problems

Graduate Speaker, Dr. Hubbard Gives Sound Commencement Address

Fifty-six seniors of the Antioch Township High school who were graduated last Friday evening were told by the speaker, the Rev. John B. Hubbard, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church, Park Ridge, that their problems of the future will be world problems.

Dr. Hubbard said that daily life of the lowliest individual is now tied up with world affairs and he cannot escape them if through nothing more than taxation.

The speaker was introduced by Principal T. R. Birkhead who also presented the class for graduation. Fred Scott, member of the board of trustees, presented the diplomas.

The program included the invocation by the Rev. Robert Harrison; "Symphony in B Minor," by the High school band; "Festival Finale," band and chorus under the direction of Hans Von Holwede; and the singing of the national anthem.

Thurlwells Injured in Car Collision Saturday; Grandson Was Killed

Stephen Carter, 14-month-old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Almond Thurlwell of Grayslake, formerly of Antioch, was killed and members of the Thurlwell and Carter families injured in an automobile accident three miles north of Hebron on Rte. 120 Saturday evening.

The car driven by Mr. Thurlwell was struck by a car driven by James Buchanan, 23, of Edna, W. Va., at the intersection of Rte. 120 and Trunk B. north of the Wisconsin line.

Mr. Thurlwell suffered broken legs and Mrs. Thurlwell was seriously bruised.

Mrs. Louise Carter, the daughter who with her children was on a visit from California, was cut about the face. The daughter, Linda, 3, received a broken leg and skull fracture, and another child, Lawrence Carter, was unhurt.

Buchanan and his companion, Miss Mildred Guethea, 20, of Fond du Lac, Wis., were treated for minor injuries.

The West Virginia man was said to have crashed into the side of the Thurlwell car after running a stop sign.

The Thurlwells were on their way to Darien, Wis., to attend the wedding of a niece. They were taken to an Elkhorn hospital for care.

Thurlwell works out of Lake Villa as a line foreman for the Public Service Co. Mrs. Thurlwell is well known here as president of the 10th district Legion auxiliary.

McMillen on Program At Opening of Lake County Stadium Friday

Outdoor wrestling in the Lake County Stadium in Round Lake Park, gets under way Friday night, June 9th and continues every Friday thereafter throughout the summer months. The June 9th show is under the sponsorship of the Highland Park Moose Club.

Cyclone Anaya, of South America and Jim McMillen, of Antioch, are the principals in the initial major mat show June 9th. Anaya, one of the top stars of wrestling faces his greatest test in meeting McMillen.

Lake County fans know that the Mayor of Antioch has been a great star for the past twenty years, meeting many world's champions.

Cyclone Anaya is best when using his cobra twist, a hold that paralyzes the nerves of the stomach when properly applied. The cage and experienced McMillen may be able to evade the hold. Jim is a versatile star and will meet the cobra twist with his own pet grips.

The all star card will have an Australian tag team match featuring Pat Graham, of Wisconsin and Art Bull, of Iowa facing Jules LaRance, of Canada and Ray Ryan of Rockford. This bout like the main event is of sixty minute duration with a two out of three fall verdict. The team of Graham and Bull are a scientific pair and will have to cope with unethical and hard boiled tactics in the team of Ryan and LaRance. The latter duo have created havoc in recent Chicago matches against worthy rivals.

In another bout on the show Joe Gordon and Pete Vukavich battle for honors in a one fall, thirty minute encounter. Both wrestlers have been winning consistently in midwest bouts.

Getting back to the main event, the winner of the Anaya-McMillen clash will no doubt be matched with some top liner such as Walter Palmer, Buddy Rogers or Tarzan White. The wrestling matches in the Lake County Stadium, are staged in a beautiful arena that affords a perfect view of the ring from every seat. It is easily accessible from the surrounding towns and cities and popular prices prevail.

Only 14 in 132 Observe 25 Mile Speed Limit on Main at Grade School

State Makes Special Survey And Notifies Village Of Dangers

Only 14 of 132 vehicles drive within the speed limit on Main street past the grade school even during the time school is dismissed, a speed survey of the state highway department reveals.

The report of R. T. Cash, district highway engineer, made to Chief Walter Scott and read to the village board of trustees Tuesday showed that nine out of every 10 passenger cars and trucks go faster than the 25-mile limit.

The survey was made between 2:45 and 3:45 p. m. Tuesday, May 9 at a time when children were leaving school and crossing the highway.

The report even identified some trucks going over the speed limit, but gave a favorable report on a school bus.

There are a few more faster cars from the north than the south, according to the report. Many were local people who use the highway regularly.

"It is our plan to rehabilitate our sign system on Rte. 21, 59, and 173 in Antioch as soon as it can be arranged," wrote Cash. "At that time we will ask for help to cut holes in the sidewalks for sign posts. Our plan is to extend the restricted speed zone both to the north and to the south. We question the advisability of lowering the speed limit until you are able to enforce the speed limit law."

"Consideration should also be given to changing the parking on the west side of Rte. 21 from angle to parallel parking the same as the east side. When this is done, we will erect 'Park Parallel Only' signs."

Chief Scott said that since receiving the letter he had been stopping speeders and warning them with the result that most of the trucks have slowed down.

Figures supplied by the state survey shows the 118 vehicles going over the speed limit went at the following speed:

One at 46.9, p. h.; three at 44.1; three at 41.7; one at 39.5; seven at 37.5; 10 at 35.7; eight at 34.1; nine at 32.6; 14 at 31.2; 14 at 30; 14 at 28.8; 11 at 27.8; 15 at 26.8; and 7 at 25.9. One of the two slowest vehicles at 21.4 was a school bus.

Marjorie Young Pupils Give Fine Performance At McHenry, Lake Villa

Elaborate costumes marked the dance performance of Marjorie Young's pupils at the Lake Villa Grade school Sunday afternoon.

A large crowd attended the entertainment entitled "Twinkle-toes" in which children from three to sixteen age did interpretive, acrobatic and clog dancing, and sang songs interpretive of their acts.

The costumes provided by the parents of the children were outstanding. With each new number of the extensive program there was a change of raiment. They represented flowers, "woodland folk" and birds in their interpretive dances. The orientals, the smart set, and the child lore were included among the wide variety of selections.

Participating in the Uganda Forest number was Gene Woodworth, a guest artist from Chicago.

Features among the solo numbers were Jill Gaston, doing a drum dance, Patty Ecklund, chair and table acrobatic dancer, Carole Hansen, tap and toe dancer and Diance Zawadzki, diminutive singer.

Marjorie Young, instructor, presented an oriental nautch dance, during the second part of the program.

Sid Gover, Lake Villa, served as master of ceremonies, and Hazel Freiday and Gwen Hansen as pianists.

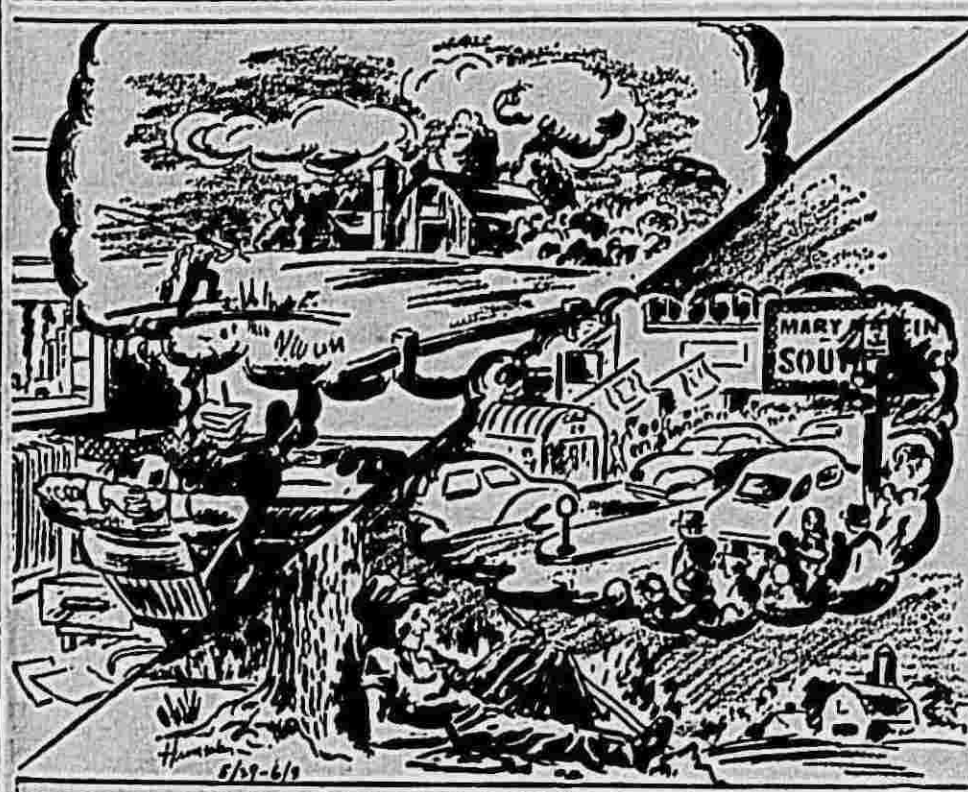

The program will be repeated at the high school in Libertyville next Sunday afternoon.

A hearing by the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals was scheduled for this afternoon at the village hall on the proposal of William C. Rosing to rezone a tract of land on Rte. 59 from F to B-1 and F to R-4.

Rosing is said to be planning to subdivide his farm for residential purposes.

Village Will Place No Parking Meters Before Episcopal Church Area

There was no hesitancy on the part of the village board in granting St. Ignatius' Episcopal church special parking place in front of its building when the request came from the pastor, the Rev. Roberts E. Ehrigott Tuesday evening.

Mr. Ehrigott protested the proposal to extend the parking meter area south on Main st., past the church and rectory.

"We deplore the commercialization which would detract from the appearance of the church lawn," said the pastor's letter to the board, "I ask you to consider the spiritual not the commercial value of the edifice devoted to the worship of Almighty God."

Mr. Ehrigott said the building was probably the oldest public edifice in the village.

Board members said that on the basis of public safety the church should have free an unobstructed exit the same as theatres, and will paint the curb in front of the church yellow to show that it is a loading and unloading place.

We Can't Have Too Much Of It

An executive of a large oil company* recently said this: "My feeling is that if you favor free enterprise and the free market, you are against all forms of control and against all interference with the free market. I do not have much time for the so-called free enterpriser who wants to be left alone himself but thinks everyone else should be regulated by law."

There is no such thing as a limited kind of freedom in business. Once controls are imposed—whether by the government or by industries themselves in the form of "gentleman's agreements" and so on—they inevitably grow to the point of strangulation. They feed upon themselves and wax fat.

The oil industry has always been a free highly competitive enterprise, save for abnormal periods, such as the last war, when everything was controlled. And the amazing growth of that industry, the vast improvement in the products it provides us with, and the high standards of efficiency and economy with which it operates, are all the result of freedom and competition. Every intelligent oil man knows that the only way to protect his markets from competitors is by the vigor with which he competes himself. He can offer his products and his services—and the final decision of whether to accept them or not is made by the consumer shopping in the free market.

Freedom is one thing of which we can't have too much.

A Sound Federal Power Policy

Some time ago the President appointed a seven-man Water Resources Policy Commission to study how the water supply of this country can be used for the best interests of the people.

This Commission apparently realizes that a Federal electric policy is also needed—it is, indeed, long overdue. It has asked organizations which speak for the electric industry to submit information that would help shape such a policy.

The industry's basic position on this great issue is a simple one. The business-managed utilities believe that the government's course must be clearly defined—and it is convinced that a sound power policy would spotlight the danger of government-subsidized competition with the heavily-taxed, stringently-regulated private utilities. They also believe that government power projects should be administered along sound business principles, and should pay for themselves instead of requiring continual support by the taxpayers.

The record of the utility industry—especially since the war—proves that private capital is fully capable of keeping pace with the growing electrical needs of the country. Its post-war, multi-billion dollar expansion program has actually produced a power surplus in many areas where a power shortage was feared. It has devoted special attention to rural electrification and the job of bringing power within reach of all American farms is not far from complete.

It is to be hoped that the power policy finally determined upon by the new commission will not follow the ideological line of those who wish to socialize this great and progressive enterprise.

Two Great Dangers

Senator Robinson of Virginia recently said that American constitutional liberty is being threatened by big government and by big labor. As examples he cited an unsound social security system, a system of Federal aid to education which would lead to Federal control over public schools, and proposals for compulsory health insurance which would bring socialized medicine.

Then he spoke of the constant efforts to invade the rights of the individual to obtain special privileges for certain groups. As an instance of this, he pointed to the exemption from antimonopoly laws given to labor groups. Finally, he observed that he has introduced a bill in the Senate to end this exemption which would not interfere with labor's legitimate collective bargaining rights—but would prevent unreasonable use of labor's monopoly powers to restrain trade or commerce.

There are differences of opinion as to just what kind of legislative measures should be employed to control the labor monopoly. But it should be clear to all that decisive action must be taken and soon if the interests of the public, honest labor, and the national security are to be protected. No nation can indefinitely stand such destructive and disgraceful actions as the series of coal strikes, to cite just one example, which periodically have paralyzed production of a vital commodity because of the whim of a labor czar.

Labor monopolies must be treated like other monopolies—without either discrimination or favoritism.

Doctor Thwarted In Research Dream Bestows Hospital

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA. — A frustrated researcher, who wants to see his wealth bear fruit in medical progress while he is still alive, has given away a hospital here.

The hospital, a private psychiatric institution, valued at $250,000, goes to the new Oklahoma medical research foundation. Dr. Coyne H. Campbell, a 45 year old physician who has practiced psychiatry here since 1933, is turning the Spencer Road sanitarium on the outskirts of Oklahoma City over to the research group. There was a touch of regret in his remarks as he announced his donation.

"I always wanted to do medical research," he explained, "but I got sidetracked into clinical medicine. This gift will compensate in part for my not having done research. Also I had rather make this gift at the age of 45 and see something come of it, than wait until I am 75 to give it."

"I can now see the fruits of my labor benefit other persons."

Once "Sidetracked"

Dr. Campbell indicated he was "sidetracked" from his own research ambitions simply by a combination of circumstances. On gaining his medical degree at the University of Chicago in 1928 he started a general practice in Frederick, Okla. But then his interests were suddenly switched to the field of psychiatry when he was named assistant superintendent of the Western Oklahoma state hospital.

This interest carried him into the specialized psychiatric field with graduate study at the Chicago Institute of Psychoanalysis. Competing this work he returned to Oklahoma to establish his own psychiatric clinic.

The doctor, who sees "no point in amassing great wealth," severed all proprietary interest in the sanitarium with his donation to the medical foundation. But last week, within a week of the original deal, Dr. Campbell agreed to the request of the research foundation's officials to stay on at the sanitarium as its director.

The foundation wanted him to take a 10 year contract guaranteeing the position but Dr. Campbell would have none of that.

No Conditions Attached

"The gift was made without any conditions as to the use to which the property will be put," the doctor explained. "Therefore I do not want the foundation to be bound by contract to employ me to operate the sanitarium for any specified period of time."

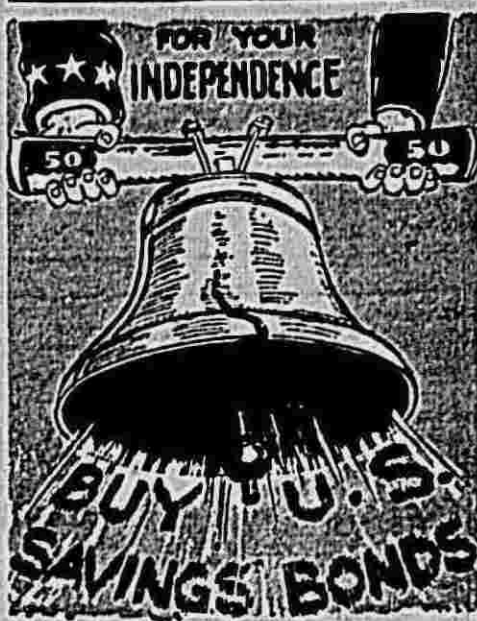

He therefore agreed to stay on "at the convenience of the foundation" at $500 a month. He also will continue his private practice at his own clinic in the city.

It's not the first time that Dr. Campbell has been moved to make a donation for research. Several years ago he contributed $3,000 to establish the John Arthur Hachett fund at the University of Oklahoma medical school in Oklahoma City. That was the first research gift ever received by the school.

The hospital gift, largest single donation yet received by the research foundation, is better than money in the bank for the organization. It means a steady income, roughly estimated at $50,000 a year, in the years to come.

"The full importance of this gift," points out Hugh G. Payne, general manager of the foundation, "lies in the fact that it gives the foundation's research institute its first real measure of security."

Dad Stands Incredulous When Held up by Own Son

CLEVELAND, OHIO. — Arthur Dunlap couldn't believe it really was happening when his son thrust a revolver in his face and demanded his money.

Incredulous, he asked: "you'd stick up your own father?"

The son, Arthur, Jr., 20, stilled any further doubts about it when he shouted an order:

"Drop your billfold!"

Dunlap, a 62-year-old barber, took the wallet which contained $55 from his pocket, dropped it to the floor.

His wife, Lottie, 50, started up from her chair, "Don't fool us with that gun, son," she said, hoping it was a joke.

But her son turned the gun on her and she sank back. He stooped, picked up the billfold and with his companion, a stranger to the parents, walked out of the house and his parents' hearts.

Dunlap went to a phone and called police. "My son robbed me," he said, simply. "I didn't think he had had in him."

Life in Prison Can Be 'Funny,' One Girl Claims

NOTRE DAME, IND.—Life in prison?

Aw, it's not so terrible. But that depends upon which side of the bars you may be. However, life in prison can be very funny, according to an inmate of Stateville prison at Joliet, Ill.

The "inmate" referred to is a tall blonde of 21 with a slow smile and soft voice. She is Jane Ragen, and why life in prison may not be so tough for her is due to the fact that she is the daughter of Joseph Ragen, the warden at Stateville. She is a senior at St. Mary's college here.

There's nothing really unusual about her home life, Jane asserts. A police guard or two outside the Ragen apartment, meals cooked and served by convicts, wardens and other minions of the law as frequent house guests—but nothing unusual.

"It's just ordinary to us," says the girl who has spent her life in prison.

Jane and her brother, Bill, a 20 year old student at St. Ambrose college in Davenport, Iowa, were born and brought up inside prison walls.

Mother Went as Bride

With a straight face, Jane explains, "my mother went to prison as a bride."

For the last 15 years, the Ragens have lived in their 10 room apartment in the administration building at Stateville. Previous to 1935, Ragen was warden at Menard prison in Chester, Ill.

Not that living inside prison gates put a damper on Jane's childhood. She and Bill played cops and robbers in back of the prison with the neighborhood kids with just as much zest and more authenticity than most. Their wooden guns were handmade for them by the convicts.

The convicts were good to the children, Jane recalls. Bill, in his preschool days, had one favorite who dressed and undressed him each morning and evening. No one else could touch him.

The day this convict was to be released on parole, Mr. and Mrs. Ragen took a short trip. The convict requested leave to stay on in prison until the Ragens returned. For who would dress Bill if he wasn't there? Jane, who is majoring in English and minoring in journalism at St. Mary's college, says her main ambition, in addition to working on a newspaper, is to write a book about life in prison. It will be a comedy.

Except for the time that James Stewart, Richard Conte and Lee J. Cobb were dinner guests of the Ragens during the filming of "Call Northside 777" at Stateville, Jane says prison life isn't too exciting.

No Spectacular Breaks

There haven't been any spectacular prison breaks as far back as Jane can remember.

"There may have been a couple of attempts, but mother and I were always in Chicago, shopping, when they happened."

The only time Jane can recall coming near a prison "break" was the night at dinner her mother was describing an expensive tablecloth she had seen that day in Chicago. One of the waiters, A Texan who was in prison because of an affinity for other people's belongings, hovered over the table, listening closely to Mrs. Ragen.

Finally he leaned over confidentially and said, "Well, now, Mrs. Ragen, if you'll just let me out for a day, I'll be glad to get that tablecloth for you."

Mrs. Ragen refused the offer. But it gave Jane the idea for a comedy on prison life. And, when you think about it, it's not a bad idea.

Missing Trash Baskets Irk New York's 'Finest'

NEW YORK.—Who'd steal wire trash baskets? Seemingly a good question, but New York has the answer. More than 316 such baskets have been stolen from the streets.

The police, red faced and hot under the collar, said it had them beat.

The city, in a burst of tidiness, put out 4,800 shiny new trash baskets. They were big—34 inches high, and heavy—45 pounds. They were to stand on crowded streets. The police watched them as if they were filled with emeralds. Still they disappeared.

"I ask myself who would be wanting baskets," said one officer. And I tell myself—hah! Apartment house superintendents.

"So I scout around behind apartment houses and what do I find? Cats. Laundry. Milk bottles. Baskets, but legal ones, bought and paid for. Not our baskets. Not hide nor hair of them."

You can get plenty of tips from sidewalk detectives:

"Out of towners take 'em. Use 'em to burn leaves."

But who burns leaves in February or March?

"Bird fanciers are doing it. The baskets would make wonderful parrot cages."

Would there have been 316 larcenous parrot keepers in five weeks?

METHODISTS HONOR 50-YEAR MEMBERS AT SUNDAY SERVICE

Four persons who have been members of the Methodist Church in Antioch for more than 50 years were honored at the morning service last Sunday. Each of the four persons have been active in the church through the years. The four honored members were Mrs. Charles Alvers who joined the Antioch church in 1889, Mrs. Drucilla Ferris who joined the church in 1890, Mrs. Laura James who joined the church in 1891 and Miss Lottie Jones who joined the church in 1893.

Each of the four were cited by the minister for the work which they had done through the years to make possible the present church. It was explained that they also symbolized the vast army of men and women both in the past and present who have helped to keep alive the Christian faith. Each of the four was presented with a corsage by four young women of the membership, the Misses Dolores Corbin, Betty Jean McDougall, June Petersen and Mary Lou Wilton.

Receive New Members

At the close of the sermon a group of High school and eighth grade young people were received into the membership of the church. These young people have been part of a large class of members and non-members which has been meeting

4-H Club Earns Money For District Camp

The Grayslake Agricultural 4-H Club realized a nice sum of money from the waste paper pickup recently held at Grayslake. Around nine tons of wastepaper were collected by the club, according to Ray T. Nicholas, Farm Adviser.

The proceeds from the sale of the paper will be used in connection with the building of camp facilities at district camp Shaw-waw-nas-see, near Kankakee.

The Grayslake agricultural club has made its annual camp quota during the past few years by conducting waste paper pickup drives.

The camp fund quota for Lake County was set at one dollar per member per year for ten years.

The Grayslake Club, as well as several other clubs in the county, have contributed more than their quota.

Bird Psychiatrists Big Help to Minister In Assaying Visitors

WASHINGTON. — Five feathered psychiatrists have their claws full these days dispensing personal advice at Thomas circle. The four parakeets and one cockatiel share an office at National City Christian church with Dr. Warren Hastings, whom they serve as uncanny emotional barometers.

By sound and action, from their cage beside his desk, the midge parrots pass the word to the minister about the state of mind of his visitors.

Phony nonchalance is exposed. Such as that of the girl whose calculating fiancé had been putting off, putting off the marriage. Despite her apparent calmness, the birds, sensing the inner turmoil, set up a terrific chirping. Out came the problem.

In the case of a daughter undecided which of two divorced parents to live with, Dr. Hastings left the girl alone with the mother. Soon the mother was screaming—the mother was chiding the child.

Then he left the girl alone with the father. The parrots chirped happily—good reaction to the way father and child got along.

When a wedding party comes in to see the minister about the arrangements, the birds cluster and the screaming reaches its fiercest: "They're reacting to the upset condition of those people," he explains.

On the other hand, when emotionally serene people are present, the birds sit each on his own perch and raise a chorus lovely to the ear.

Whence comes this insight? Dr. Hastings doesn't know. He thinks maybe "ether waves."

The birds rank ace high with Dr. Hastings' congregation. When a thief broke into the church, he took the minister's overcoat and killed a parakeet while removing the birds from their cage—for what reason is speculation, maybe to sell.

Scores of parishoners expressed sympathy over the parakeet—"How could anyone be so cruel as to kill that little bird?"

"No one mentioned that $70 overcoat," said Dr. Hastings.

Woman Told of House On Fire Goes to Bed

WASHINGTON. — A woman apparently so sleepy that she went back to bed after being told her house was on fire, was rescued by police and firemen after a second try.

Police were investigating an automobile accident when they saw smoke billowing from the house of Mrs. Collette Schneider, 36-year-old widow, a block away. Mrs. Schneider came to the window, was informed her house was on fire, then went back to bed.

Officers and firemen aroused her a second time, lifted her out the window and asked whether there were any other occupants in the house.

She said that her 10-year-old daughter still was in bed. The rescuers forced their way back into the building and found the bed empty.

Then firemen learned that the mother was mistaken and that the child stayed in a private school and visited only on the week ends.

'Veep' Means Little to Cab Driver Giving Him Direction

NORFOLK, VA.—The "Veep" didn't mean a thing to this man and it happened this way:

When the stout, worried gentleman in the sporty convertible asked cab driver Oscar Osmund the way from Little Creek to Norfolk, he got his answer. Not, however, before Osmund had pressed him into service as an assistant in the greasy job of checking the oil in his cab.

That job accomplished, Osmund led the gentleman and his woman driver to a Norfolk ferry dock. He got $5 for his pains. Then he found out just who the assistant oil checker was.

It was Vice-President Alben Barkley. The driver was Mrs. Barkley. En route to Washington, they had lost their way.

Osmund wasn't impressed. "Who's Vice-President Barkley?" he asked.

More Phoney Money Pushed In 1949, Report States

WASHINGTON. — Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman has reported public losses from counterfeiting more than tripled from 1948 to 1949, jumping from $190,133 to $651,445.

This marked the highest peak in phoney money deals since 1935 when the public lost a record $1,037,785, he said.

Another $703,423 in bogus bills was seized by Secret Service agents before it could be passed, Baughman said in a report to the secretary of the treasury on 1949 operations.

He reported also an increase in forgeries of treasury checks and savings bonds.

Operations against counterfeiters brought 478 arrests in 1949. Some suspects had not yet been tried, but 273 persons were convicted on counterfeiting charges last year, the report said.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

The Centennial of UNCLE DAN-MASTER SCOUT JUNE 21-1850-1950

WHEN YOUNG DAN BEARD HELPED TO ORGANIZE THE BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA IN 1910, HIS "AMERICAN BOYS' HANDY BOOK" HAD BEEN THE GOSPEL OF WOODCRAFT AND HANDICRAFT FOR GENERATIONS OF BOYS—AND ITS AUTHOR WAS 60 YEARS OLD.

BUT YOUNG DESCRIBES HIM, FOR HIS LOVE AND UNDERSTANDING OF BOYS MADE HIM ONE OF THEM, AND UNTIL HIS DEATH AT 91, THAT GENUINE BOYISHNESS IN HIS HEART MADE HIM TOP SCOUT TO ALL SCOUTS, AND TO MILLIONS OF OTHER BOYS—AND MEN.

BY PRECEPT AND EXAMPLE—AND ALWAYS WITHOUT PREACHING OR CONDESCENSION—HE TAUGHT THE KIND OF INITIATIVE, INDEPENDENCE AND DEMOCRACY OF USEFULNESS THAT MAKES GOOD SCOUTS AND GOOD CITIZENS.

PICKPOCKET SCHOOL

Crook Acts In Dual Role

LONDON, ENGLAND. — Jonathan Wild was a man who worked both sides of the street.

As dictator of London's underworld, he ran a stolen goods business so big that he had to open a branch office.

In the criminal courts, he was an ardent champion of justice, with a semi-official position and a record for capturing more thieves than any London policeman.

Quite a character, this Wild. His wife was attended by a liveried footman. He swaggered in a sword and ruffles. Honest people gave him a check on the "take" of his underling crooks. Honest magistrates hanged his rivals. He may have been the first person in history to endow a school of etiquette for pickpockets.

Quite a lad. Until they hanged him.

Creature of Underworld

Wild was a creature of the roistering London underworld of the early 18th century, a feld, gin sodden sewer, teeming with the lost, the desperate, and the vicious.

He himself was born in the provinces and was a journeyman buckle maker until he deserted his wife and child to go to the big city. His arrival there was inauspicious and he might have lived his life out in anonymity, poor but dishonest, except for two happenings.

The first was: He was tossed into jail for debt. In the seamy prisons of that day, debtors—more or less innocent—mingled with criminals of the most hardened character.

Wild stayed in prison four years. There he got an education, a career and a wife, the last a lady of the stews named Mary Milliner. She shared Wild's name and growing prosperity for several years until, one day, he felt constrained to lop off one of her ears with a sword and kick her out.

On leaving pokey, Mr. and Mrs. Wild went into business, operating an alehouse of a dubious sort. They attracted a fairly good spending clientele of crooks. There are legends that Wild padded out his income by a bit of judicious burglary, but this was never proved.

It was while he was in innkeeper that Wild ran into the second experience that changed his life.

Chosen as Partner

Charles Hichin had been city marshal (chief of police) of London and had abused the position thoroughly. Caught in some rough work, he was demoted to constable. He had ideas: Principal among them the thought that he could live mightily comfortably if he could terrorize the criminals into sharing their loot with him.

Hichin needed a partner and he chose Wild. From every viewpoint except one, the choice was superb. The exception was Hichin's own welfare.

Together, the pair blackmailed the underworld, levying tribute from the illegal house, forcing burglars and cutpurses—under threats of arrest—to disgorge part of their loot. It was Wild's task to collect this booty and take it to Hichin, who would sell it.

But Hichin had the mind of a strong arm gorilla; Wild had the brain of an organizer. Inevitably, the subordinate began double crossing his boss and edging him out of top position.

Hichin flailed back grotesquely in the public print and soon London was treated to the odd spectacle of two supercrooks bludgeoning each other in pamphlets and advertisements.

The end was foreordained. Hichin sank back to the level of a petty crook. Wild became master of the racket.

Chicago Cops Have System Outfitting Overtime Parkers

CHICAGO. — Policemen here have come up with a trick that offenders haven't yet been able to outguess.

Until recently, traffic policemen marked the tires of parked cars with chalk. If a car bearing the chalk marks was still in the stall when the policeman returned after the allowed period of parking, the motorist would receive a ticket.

But the drivers got smart. They would erase the chalk mark and pretend innocence when accused of overstaying their time.

So, the policemen took to putting peanuts under the wheels of parked cars. If the police returned and found the peanut intact, the violators were tagged.

Arlington Polo Team Will Meet Milwaukee; Defeats Detroit 10-6

The Waukegan Polo team, victors over the Arlington Farms club, International Polo League champions, in their opening game Memorial Day, will face the powerful Milwaukee club at Arlington Farms Sunday at 3 p. m.

On the strength of their victory over the league titlists, Waukegan, headed by William (Red) Grant, ranks as the favorites in the game with the Milwaukee quartet.

Grant, who scored the winning goal against Arlington will team with Billy Ylvisaker, Tom Cross, and burly Johnny Casey, hard-hitting defensive ace.

Leading the attack for Milwaukee will be Bobby Walters and the great Argentine ace, Pedro Silvero, while Jack Pink and Bob Uhlman will handle the defensive chores.

Arlington Farms bounced back from its defeat by Waukegan to hand the powerful Detroit Gold Hats a 10 to 6 lacing Sunday.

Arlington's attack was led by Dashing Del Carroll, who scored five goals and Wild Bill Fergie, who tallied three goals.

Hadacol Helps Wife Keep Her Family Well and Happy

HADACOL HELPS FOLKS SUFFERING FROM DEFICIENCY OF VITAMINS B₁, B₂, NIACIN AND IRON

Mrs. Edward H. Newton, 4364 Reading Road, Cincinnati, Ohio, feels that a wife's chief responsibility is attending to the welfare of her family at all times. HADACOL has been a big help to her in keeping her husband and little nephew well and happy.

Mrs. Newton's family, like so many, were suffering deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

HADACOL brought such wonderful results to her husband, who had suffered from stomach distress that Mrs. Newton gave HADACOL to her three-year-old nephew, Bobby Newton, with equally gratifying results.

Mrs. Newton's Statement

Here is Mrs. Newton's statement: "I gave my little nephew HADACOL because he was pale; he had no appetite; he was run down and he caught colds repeatedly. After taking HADACOL, he has an appetite, has color in his cheeks and he is healthier all the way. My husband has always been troubled with his stomach. After taking five large bottles of HADACOL, he eats anything and is not bothered with his stomach." Mrs. Newton has recommended HADACOL to many of her friends.

Helps You Feel Wonderful

Why not have a happy experience happen to you? Now don't keep putting it off—don't say that you'll start taking HADACOL tomorrow. START TAKING IT TODAY! If only you'd realize the wonderful benefits that people by the thousands are getting from HADACOL, you wouldn't delay a single minute.

Hundreds of Doctors

... have prescribed HADACOL for their patients, have requested quantities of HADACOL for their own clinical use and for their own families. The fact that HADACOL is scientifically formulated, compounded so that it contains therapeutic quantities of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron to supply deficiencies of these vital elements and is enriched with helpful amounts of Manganese, Calcium and Phosphorus (in liquid form), help to account for its increasing acceptance by doctors.

You'll Feel Great...

... with the first few bottles you take or your money back. There is only one HADACOL and it is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. So give this remarkable HADACOL formula a chance to help you if you suffer from any sickness caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. Remember that HADACOL is amazingly different and amazingly effective because it treats the real cause of the conditions you suffer from by supplying the deficient elements of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. Make up your mind to take HADACOL regularly. Refuse substitutes. Don't be satisfied with temporary relief. Insist on the genuine. You can't lose a cent, because it's sold on a strict money-back guarantee. Only $1.25 for Trial size. Large Family or Hospital size, $3.50.

Winding Watch in Morning Found Best for Operation

EIGIN, ILL.—Before retiring to night, be sure to lock your door, put out the cat and brush your teeth.

But don't wind your watch, warns an expert, lest it become neurotic. According to William H. Same-lus, head of the Elgin watchmakers college, timepieces give best service if they're wound at the same time each day. And since our arising habits are more constant than our time of retiring, morning is the time to wind your watch.

Moreover, a timepiece wound in the morning is in better shape to take the jars and jolts it is subject to during the day.

Americans' Conveniences Due to Energy Harnessing

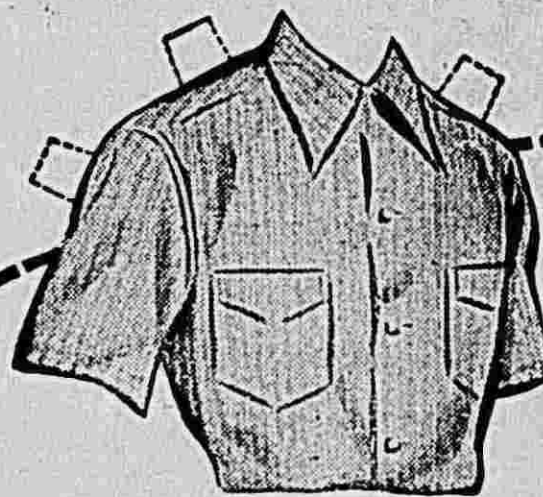

CINCINNATI, OHIO.—The conveniences and comforts that Americans enjoy are due primarily to man's ability to harness the energy of nature to satisfy his demands. That's the conclusion of Dr. Isay Balinkin, associate professor of experimental physics in the University of Cincinnati's college of engineering. His statement was made at the opening lecture to high school honor students in an application of physical sciences series.

"It is estimated that in 1949 every person in the United States used more than 1,600 kilowatt hours of energy," Dr. Balinkin said.

Antioch Experimental Field Object of Tour By Farmers on July 6

The annual field tour at the Antioch Soil Experiment Field will be held Thursday, July 6, starting at 1:00 p. m.

Farmers of Lake and adjoining counties will have an opportunity to learn more about the results of various fertilizing systems at this annual field day.

Prof. A. L. Lang, who has charge of the experimental fields in Illinois will be present to discuss the results obtained and answer such questions as:

1. What kind of phosphate should you apply on deficient soils like those at the Antioch experimental field?
2. Can you grow winter wheat as far north as Lake County? What variety?
3. How are the ripening date and quality of wheat affected by soil treatment?
4. Will your oats respond to fertilizers?
5. If your soils are low in potash, how can you supply it most economically?

This field is located on the Homer White farm, two miles east of Antioch and about one half mile south of Route 173.

Survey of Use of Local Streets Will Be Made At Request of State

Antioch, like all other villages and cities in the state, has been asked by the State division of highways to make a complete survey of the streets, recording their use.

The plan is a part of a five-year program in which, through federal aid, the state hopes to develop the highways and streets to a co-ordinated system of satisfactory travel.

Mayor James McMillen has appointed Trustee C. A. Wolfenbarger to supervise the survey. He will map every street showing by color the extent of its use, its relation to arterial streets and state roads.

Motor fuel tax expenditures will be based on needs as shown by the survey.

Skilled Drivers' Contest To Be Held Aug. 18 At Illinois State Fair

Chicago—For the first time, the finals of the Illinois Rural Youth Skilled Drivers Contest will be held at the Illinois State Fair this summer.

The Skilled Drivers Contest is sponsored by the Illinois Agricultural Association Department of Safety. The contest is aimed at focusing attention on safe and sane driving.

Finals of the contest will be staged Friday morning, Aug. 18, which is Farmers' Day at the fair. Previously the contest was held in November in connection with the IAA annual meeting. The IAA is the state Farm Bureau organization with 175,000 farm family members.

To be eligible to drive in the state finals, a Rural Youth member must win a local contest conducted in his county. All county winners will be invited to the finals.

A county contest will include three parts. They are:

1. a period spent studying safe driving techniques and Illinois traffic laws;
2. a written examination on safe operation of cars, trucks and other vehicles, and on traffic regulations;
3. a "behind-the-wheel" driving contest composed of skill tests and a road test under actual driving conditions.

The skill part of the contest is made up of tests on angle parking, serpentine driving, parallel parking and others.

Judges of the county and state contests will be local police officers, state highway patrolmen and Farm Bureau officials.

Red Cross To Hold Annual Meeting June 15

Officials of American Red Cross, North Lake County Chapter, today issued an invitation to all members to attend the annual public meeting to be held at Glen Flora Country Club, Waukegan, Thursday June 15.

"This is the one opportunity of the year," said Alex Wille, chapter chairman, "for all the people to share in the business transaction of their Red Cross, and we look forward to welcoming as many as can be there." Eleven new board members are to be appointed, Wille stated, and the annual reports of the chapter's finances and accomplishments will be made. The program will include a "Parade of the Past" which will point up the history of Red Cross in the county since its inception in 1917.

Inasmuch as this will be a dinner meeting at 6:30, reservations are asked by Monday, June 12. They may be phoned or sent into Red Cross chapter headquarters, 133 Belvidere St., Waukegan, Ontario 4044.

Prisoner Magazine Raps 'Crime School' Programs on Radio

WETHERSFIELD, CONN.—Since the following came, it might be said, from an authoritative "voice of experience," it well might be heeded by parents, officials and everyone concerned:

"I object! I vehemently object! I get glassy-eyed with anger and my trigger finger jerks spasmodically every time I think how the radio crime-presentation industry operates its debasing crime schools."

The writer said he had listened to 50 radio "crime" programs in two weeks, one of which "gave details on how to snatch 75 G's worth of diamonds," while another "showed how to case a bank for a 50-G stick-up."

Also included, he said, were programs which "told how to blackmail recently widowed women out of 5 and 10 G's apiece," and gave "details on a 40-grand kidnapping plot, with a little murder and extortion thrown in."

Calling radio crime presentation "the most blatantly debasing and most crime-inducing factor with which the American listening public has to contend," the writer-in-mate turns to television and asks: "When they get television so good that half-congealed blood drips onto the nursery floor, will you still allow it? Will you still think it is thrilling?"

The foregoing was from the Monthly Record, published by inmates of the Connecticut state prison and circulated "outside" and was contained in an article entitled "15,000 Murders a Month," which was written by an inmate of the prison.
